

Privacy Policy

Process Measurement & Controls (PMC) is committed to protecting your privacy. As a general policy, no Personally Identifiable Information (PII), such as name, mailing address, phone number or email address, is automatically collected from visitors to this site. Such information about visitors is collected only when knowingly and voluntarily submitted by the visitor.

We strive to protect your personal information, but cannot guarantee the security of any information that you may transmit to us, because no data transmission over the Internet can be guaranteed to be totally secure. Therefore, PMC does not guarantee that communications with our site, or access to your PII, will never be improperly accessed by third parties.

Once we receive your transmission, we make our best effort to ensure its security on our systems. PMC will not sell, trade, rent, or allow others to use your information outside of PMC, its divisions, subsidiaries, and affiliates. However, we may disclose information to the appropriate legal authorities in special cases when we believe in good faith that such release is necessary:

- to comply with appropriate law,
- to identify or bring legal action against someone who may be violating PMC's terms and conditions of use,
- to protect the tangible and intangible property rights of PMC, its divisions, subsidiaries and affiliates, or other third parties.

PII that visitors submit to our site is used for the purpose for which it was submitted, and for the purpose of updating PMC's mailing list. PMC may use this updated mailing list to send you information or materials regarding PMC news, events, products and services.

We may use certain information gathered from this site to compile demographic data about our users, sales, web site traffic patterns, and related web site information. If shared with third parties, this data will not include any PII.

PMC's STS web site may contain links to other web sites. Web sites, which are linked to this site and visited by a user from PMC's site, may have different privacy policies, terms, and conditions for use. PMC is not responsible for the privacy practices or terms and conditions of use of other such sites.

If, at any time after submitting your personal information to our site, you would no longer like to receive information from us, or if you would like to correct or update any personal information which you had previously submitted, please login to the site, select 'my account', then 'edit' then 'personal information'. Alternatively please email us at webmaster@pmc1.com.

If and when you become a Registered User, we will ask for your name, e-mail address and other information. You will be asked whether you would like to receive communications from us regarding our products, services, or other topics which may be of interest to you. We will only send such messages to you with your prior consent.

PMC reviews its privacy policy periodically and reserves the right, at its sole discretion, to modify this policy at any time. Notification of any material changes to this statement will be posted on this page. If we make material changes to the way we use your PII, we will ask for your consent to do so.
